

Creating an animated film –is a time-consuming process that requires a professional approach of different professionals: animation studio artists, animators, modelers, and others.

We are pleased to offer the creation of an animated film based on your script, or "from scratch". In this case, we are ready to take the script writing and inventing characters for a future cartoon.

We also develop animated infomercials. The use of animation in this format can significantly increase the efficiency of a presentation / movie.

This is due to many factors, among them, such as:

- customer loyalty to the animated characters and films
- positivity, brightness and color cartoon
- consumer perceptions and memorability of animated movies in many times higher than conventional television and movies.

In view of the above, using animation in the advertising means that you get a significant competitive advantage and as a consequence of greater value from consumers.

Use cartoons as possible:

- Commercials
- Elements of corporate films and documentaries
- Multimedia presentations
- Videos for presentation at conferences, exhibitions, etc.
- In any other areas where it can be applied to animation.

Request the creation of an animated film on our website or by telephone.
